Crest

An area of great beauty between the Bordes de Setúria and the Port de Cabús. Pic dels Llacs is the culmination of the Vall de Setúria, an important valley for its pastoral activity thanks to the immensity of its pastures.

If you do the route at the beginning of June, the grass is covered with lady of the snows (Pulsatilla vernalis), white flowers on the inside with a purple hue on the outside of the flower, which are covered with fur to adapt to the mountain climate. This peak has an altitude of 2,666 metres and is also known as Pic de la Bassera. The first section takes you to the first peak: Pic de Setúria (2,517 metres), affording splendid views.

During the ascent, you'll cross another path that comes from the left from the Bordes de Setúria.

To the north, you can enjoy the views of the peaks of Sanfonts, Roca Entravessada and Comapedrosa. To the left are the peaks of Vallpeguera, Ascorbes and, further away, Monteixo. A little further on, the ascent becomes more demanding until you get to Pic dels Llacs, where you'll find a large stone cairn and a metal point indicating the end point of your hike.
